FSD LETTER NO. 91-1

ACIN NO. I-09-91

TO: ALL DISTRICT ATTORNEYS
ALL TITLE IV-D AGENCIES
ALL COUNTY WELFARE DEPARTMENTS

SUBJECT: W&I CODE SECTION 903 - SUPPORT OF WARDS AND DEPENDENT CHILDREN (GROUP HOME COSTS)

This is to advise Counties that there are changes in determining the parental liability for support of a minor who is placed, detained, or committed to any institution or other place pursuant to a juvenile court order.

On October 31, 1988, the California Supreme Court issued its opinion in County of San Mateo v. Dell J., Sr., et al. (46 Cal.3d 1236.) The Court affirmed the Attorney General's position that Counties may use Welfare and Institutions Code (W&IC) Section 11350 to seek reimbursement from the responsible family of Aid to Families with Dependent Children - Foster Care (AFDC-FC) funds expended for the support of a minor during his court-ordered placement in a foster care home, when he is involuntarily removed from the family home pursuant to W&IC Section 602, provided that (1) a legal obligation to support the minor preceded the 602 placement, (2) costs of support can be identified and segregated from the nonallowable costs of detention, and (3) the family's liability is subject to reduction according to their reasonable ability to pay.

The Dell J. court, construing the 1983 Foster Care reimbursement statute (W&IC Section 903), held that equal protection prohibited recoupment of public assistance from parents for the treatment, confinement, supervision, or rehabilitation of minors who have committed crimes and been removed from their homes pursuant to W&IC Section 602. Parents remain liable for support-related costs which they would otherwise have to bear. The Court further found that District Attorneys seeking reimbursement of public assistance for Foster Care must establish that recovery of such funds from parents is limited to the reasonable costs of support and excludes treatment and supervision costs. (46 Cal.3d at p. 1252.)

The Court noted the subsequent 1984 amendments to W&IC Section 903 which provided that the AFDC-FC grant "shall be considered a separate, indivisible component item of the cost of support of a minor" and excepted the Foster Care grant from the $15-per-day limit imposed on other reimbursement orders. The Court stated that "[b]ecause the reimbursement order in this case was limited to itemized support costs, the order is clearly valid under the 1983 amendments to section 903, and we have no occasion to consider the application or validity of the 1984 amendments." (Id. at p. 1255, fn. 15.)

As the 1984 amendments to W&IC Section 903 were not addressed in Dell J., these provisions remain in effect. Accordingly, Counties are instructed to pursue recouping the entire AFDC-FC grant. Of course, the appropriate child support guideline will be used to determine the actual amount of child support ordered. Counties are also reminded that these types of cases are subject to the case processing time standards found in the State Department of Social Services' Manual of Policies and Procedures, Chapter 12-100.

Counties need to be advised that a new rate setting system became effective with the passage of Senate Bill 370 (Chapter 1294, Statutes of 1989). Under the new system, group home rates are determined based on the level of service provided, not the costs incurred by the group home. Thus, there will no longer be a breakdown of the various components of support available. However, the Foster Care Rates Bureau has agreed to add the County Family Support Divisions to its mailing list for quarterly updates of the rates paid to group homes.

The Department realizes that Counties have cases which originated prior to the imposition of the flat rate system and that a breakdown of group home costs is sometimes useful for these types of cases. Therefore, a copy of the most recent listing of group home costs is enclosed for your convenience. However, the listing does require some explanation.

In the past, cost information regarding group homes was provided to Counties by the State Department of Social Services (SDSS) based on data collected from the group homes. This data was not collected by SDSS for calendar years 1986 and 1987. Thus, no information is available for that time period. The listing does provide actual cost information for calendar years 1985 and 1988. The information shown for 1986 and 1987 is estimated. This estimation was derived by adding a percentage increase to 1985's actual data based on the California Necessities Index. If Counties wish to have more accurate data or if they wish to have data for a home not on the list, they will need to contact the group home directly.

W&IC Section 903 also covers placements which do not receive an AFDC-FC grant. For non-AFDC-FC cases, W&IC Section 903(c)(1) establishes a maximum daily amount that can be imposed by the County, after evaluating the family's financial ability to pay. The maximum combined cost of $15 per day for food, food preparation, clothing, personal supplies, and medical expenses is to be adjusted every third year, beginning January 1, 1988, to reflect the percentage change in the annual average of the California Consumer Price Index. Therefore, effective January 1, 1988, the maximum amount which can be imposed for parental liability on non-AFDC-FC cases increased to $16.84 per day. The next increase will be effective January 1, 1991. Counties will be notified of the new limit as soon as that information is available.

Finally, Counties are advised that the Legislative Analyst's Office, the State Department of Finance, and other agencies have recently taken an increased interest in these types of cases. These agencies are expecting an increase in AFDC-FC recoupment. Therefore, Counties are encouraged to diligently pursue these cases before legislative or other budgetary action is taken to place additional requirements on SDSS and the Counties.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact the Child Support Operations Bureau at (916) 322-6384, or, for rate information, contact the Foster Care Rates Bureau at (916) 323-1263.
